
Contents

Chapter 1. Born to Act	1
1.1. It's hard not to act	1
1.2. What is the result of the action taken?	3
1.3. To act or not to act	4
1.4. Synopsis	6
Chapter 2. Two Kinds of Actions: Immediate or with Reasoning	7
2.1. To depend on us or to not depend on us	7
2.2. Action triggered by recognition.	9
2.3. Human decision-making	12
2.4. Reasoning before action.	17
2.5. Between recognition and reasoning, learning	22
2.6. Conclusion.	25
Chapter 3. Anticipation and Planning	27
3.1. A more desirable state of the world.	27
3.2. Anticipations	28
3.3. Individual planning	37
3.4. Organizational planning	40
3.5. Conclusion.	44
Chapter 4. Act Anyway!	45
4.1. Rationality of the action	46
4.2. Dying of hunger or dying of thirst?	54

4.3. Individual obstacles	59
4.4. Organizational barriers to change and action	68
4.5. Speed of action, heuristics and probabilities	79
4.6. Conclusion	90
Chapter 5. The Conduct of Action and Leadership	93
5.1. On the implementation of decisions	93
5.2. Teaming up	96
5.3. The leader and leadership	105
5.4. Conclusion	111
Chapter 6. Intuition, Expertise and Decision-making	113
6.1. Intuition and “natural decision-making”.	113
6.2. Expertise, experts and decision-making	123
6.3. Expertise, environment and uncertainty	129
6.4. Conclusion	137
Conclusion	139
Index of Proper Names	147
Index of Terms	151