

---

Contents

---

Introduction . . . . .	vii
Chapter 1. Economics and Imbalances . . . . .	1
1.1. Capturing power . . . . .	1
1.1.1. From eco-development to sustainable development . . . . .	2
1.1.2. Interest and limits of the decoupling concept . . . . .	10
1.2. Systemic approach to the economy . . . . .	19
1.2.1. Nature and structure of productive capital . . . . .	21
1.2.2. Spaces and temporalities of productive phenomena . . . . .	29
1.3. Conclusion. . . . .	38
Chapter 2. Information Structures Production . . . . .	41
2.1. The value chain: an outdated representation . . . . .	41
2.1.1. Toward a functional economy . . . . .	42
2.1.2. Valuing multifunctional production . . . . .	50
2.2. Reinventing performance . . . . .	58
2.2.1. Information socioeconomy . . . . .	59
2.2.2. Preserving the functional heritage . . . . .	67
2.3. Conclusion. . . . .	72
Chapter 3. Communication Renews Rationalities . . . . .	75
3.1. From agent to actor . . . . .	75
3.1.1. Decentralizing the economic space . . . . .	76
3.1.2. Toward a cooperative transaction society . . . . .	84
3.2. To discuss is to produce . . . . .	89
3.2.1. Toward a hermeneutical and contributory web . . . . .	91
3.2.2. A contributory platform for political economy . . . . .	100
3.3. Conclusion. . . . .	107

---

Chapter 4. Accounting: The Figure in Dialogue . . . . .	109
4.1. Performance systems . . . . .	109
4.1.1. Coupling between functional ecosystems. . . . .	111
4.1.2. Multiscalar and cross-sectoral scenarios . . . . .	123
4.2. Cost systems . . . . .	133
4.2.1. Internalization and territorialization. . . . .	134
4.2.2. Structuring the micro–macro accounting space . . . . .	142
4.3. Conclusion . . . . .	154
Chapter 5. Contractualizing: The Value in Act. . . . . .	157
5.1. Restructuring the transactional space . . . . .	157
5.1.1. Levels of representation and materiality . . . . .	159
5.1.2. Intangible assets and performance contract. . . . .	166
5.2. Taking the measure of the territorial heritage . . . . .	178
5.2.1. An irreducible interface between performance and profitability . . . . .	179
5.2.2. Territorial informative and cognitive assessment . . . . .	186
5.3. Conclusion . . . . .	194
Chapter 6. Development, Changing the Compass and the Map . . . . .	197
6.1. Dynamic Modeling of Cost Systems. . . . .	197
6.1.1. Linking shared representations and activity costs . . . . .	199
6.1.2. Relative growth and strategic alignment . . . . .	207
6.2. Social value of acceleration. . . . .	219
6.2.1. Entropy, wealth and time. . . . .	221
6.2.2. Turning toward sustainability . . . . .	229
6.3. Conclusion . . . . .	241
Conclusion . . . . .	245
Postface . . . . .	255
References . . . . .	259
Index . . . . .	281