
Contents

Foreword	ix
Patrick COHENDET
Author Biographies	xiii
Introduction	xvii
Guy PARMENTIER
Chapter 1. The Foundations of Organizational Creative Capabilities	1
Guy PARMENTIER
1.1. Organizational capabilities	1
1.1.1. The different organizational capabilities	3
1.1.2. Approaches for studying organizational capability	6
1.2. Organizational factors of creative capabilities	7
1.2.1. Factors related to the structure of an organization.	10
1.2.2. Factors related to an organization's resources	12
1.2.3. Factors related to an organization's vision	13
1.2.4. Factors related to management methods	14
1.3. Organizational routines of creative capabilities.	15
1.4. References	22
Chapter 2. Building Openness to Develop Organizational Creative Capability	31
Émilie RUIZ and Guy PARMENTIER
2.1. Open innovation as the beginning of openness	32
2.2. The modalities of openness	34
2.2.1. Boundaries management.	34

2.2.2. Managing the governance of openness	38
2.2.3. Knowledge absorption management.	39
2.3. The main openness devices that promote creativity	40
2.4. Conclusion	45
2.5. References	47
Chapter 3. Methods, Tools and Spaces for Revealing Employee Creativity	51
Romain RAMPA and Guy PARMENTIER
3.1. Cognitively equipping for creativity: training and methods	52
3.1.1. The C-K theory and the DKCP method	54
3.1.2. Creative problem solving (CPS)	58
3.1.3. Design thinking or empathy at the service of creation	60
3.1.4. Cognitively equipping: issues and limits to be taken into account	62
3.2. Establishing and developing fertile spaces for creativity	64
3.2.1. The advent of virtual spaces?	67
3.3. The role of physical tools and equipment	68
3.4. Discussion and conclusion	69
3.5. References	73
Chapter 4. Creative Slack Enabling Ideas to Emerge, to be Stored and Transform	79
Romain RAMPA and Guy PARMENTIER
4.1. The origins of the slack concept.	80
4.2. Creative slack as a pool of ideas	81
4.2.1. The creative slack as a formal idea pool	84
4.2.2. Creative slack as the informal idea pool	86
4.3. Creative slack as room to maneuver	88
4.3.1. The room for time for creativity	89
4.3.2. The room for material and financial resources for creativity	91
4.3.3. The room for interpretation in processes and routines	92
4.4. The different components of creative slack: implications and limitations.	94
4.5. References	96
Chapter 5. Agile Methods and Organizational Creativity	101
Florence JEANNOT, Maxime MELLARD and Guy PARMENTIER
5.1. The use of agile methods in the video game industry	104
5.2. The influence of agile methods on the creativity of the video games produced	106

5.3. The central role of organizational creative capability	107
5.3.1. The influence of agile methods on organizational creative capability	108
5.3.2. The influence of organizational creative capability on the creativity of the video games produced	112
5.4. An empirical study	113
5.4.1. Test of the influence of agile methods on the creativity of the video games produced	114
5.4.2. Empirical test of the proposed causal chain	115
5.5. Discussion	117
5.6. References	119
Chapter 6. Idea Management and Idea Socialization in Organizations	127
Guy PARMENTIER, Séverine LE LOARNE-LEMAIRE and Romain RAMPA
6.1. The path of ideas.	128
6.1.1. Idea generation	129
6.1.2. Idea development	130
6.1.3. Idea promotion	130
6.1.4. Idea deployment	132
6.2. The challenges of the idea path	134
6.2.1. How can idea generation be intensified? The challenge of idea incubation	134
6.2.2. How can ideas be enriched? The stocking issue	135
6.2.3. How can the idea be enriched? The challenge of its socialization	136
6.2.4. How to select the best idea	137
6.2.5. What impact does the transporter of the idea and the form of the presentation have on selection?	138
6.3. Global idea management	139
6.3.1. Informal idea management	139
6.3.2. Formal idea management	142
6.3.3. Synthesis	146
6.4. Conclusion	147
6.5. References	148
Chapter 7. Measuring Organizational Creative Capabilities	155
Zeinab SHEET, Florence JEANNOT and Guy PARMENTIER
7.1. Theoretical framework	156
7.1.1. Dimensions of OCC	156
7.1.2. The consequence of OCC	158
7.1.3. The control variables	158

7.2. Methodology and procedure for generating items	159
7.2.1. The procedure for generating items	160
7.3. Results and discussion	162
7.3.1. Interview results: qualitative exploration	162
7.3.2. Expert feedback: quantitative exploration	163
7.3.3. Initial scale.	163
7.4. Conclusion	165
7.5. Appendix: scale items.	166
7.5.1. Socialization of ideas.	166
7.5.2. Creating room to maneuver	166
7.5.3. Creative equipment.	167
7.5.4. Idea management	167
7.5.5. External openness.	168
7.5.6. Organizational agility	169
7.6. References	169
Chapter 8. The Creative Performance of Organizations	175
Bérangère L. SZOSTAK
8.1. Proposal of a general framework for creative performance.	177
8.1.1. Creative performance: definitions and issues	177
8.1.2. Performance and management of organizational creativity	181
8.2. Measuring performance creativity	184
8.2.1. The creativity ladder	185
8.2.2. Proposal of creative performance indicators: creative KPIs	188
8.3. Conclusion	191
8.4. References	191
Conclusion	195
Florence JEANNOT, Séverinne LE LOARNE-LEMAIRE, Maxime MELLARD, Guy PARMENTIER, Romain RAMPA, Émilie RUIZ, Zeinab SHEET and Bérangère L. SZOSTAK.
List of Authors	203
Index	205