Introduction ix

Chapter 1. On the Origins of Artificial Intelligence 1

1.1. The birth of artificial intelligence (AI) 1
1.1.1. The 1950s–1970s in the United States 1
1.1.2. AI research in China 7
1.1.3. AI research in Russia. 9
1.1.4. AI research in Japan 12
1.1.5. AI research in France. 14
1.2. Characteristics of AI research 16
1.3. The sequences of AI history 19
1.4. The robot and robotics 23
1.5. Example of AI integration: the case of the CIA in the 1980s. 27
1.5.1. The CIA's instruments and methods for understanding and appropriating AI adapted to its needs 29
1.5.2. Focus groups, research, coordination 35
1.5.3. The network of interlocutors outside the intelligence community. 36
1.5.4. What AI applications for what intelligence needs? 42

Chapter 2. Concepts and Discourses 45

2.1. Defining AI 47
2.1.1. AI 47
2.1.2. Expert systems 54
2.1.3. Machine learning and deep learning 56
2.1.4. The robot, robotics 57
2.2. Types of AI 60

2.3. Evolution of the themes over time 62
2.3.1. Google Trends. 62
2.3.2. The AAAI magazine 63
2.4. The stories generated by artificial intelligence 67
2.4.1. The transformative power of AI 67
2.4.2. The absolute superiority of human intelligence over the machine 75
2.4.3. The replacement of humans by machines. 76
2.4.4. AI as an existential threat 77
2.4.5. The place of AI and robotics in fiction: the example of Japan 80
2.5. Political considerations 82
2.5.1. National strategies for artificial intelligence 85
2.5.2. U.S. policy 97

Chapter 3. Artificial Intelligence and Defense Issues 105

3.1. Military policies and doctrines for AI: the American approach 105
3.1.1. American defense AI policy 105
3.1.2. AI in American military doctrines 114
3.2. Military AI in Russia 128
3.3. AI and the art of warfare 136
3.3.1. Manuel de Landa: war in the age of intelligent machines 136
3.3.2. AI announcing a new RMA? 139
3.3.3. Applications of AI in the military field 143
3.3.4. Expert systems in military affairs 146
3.3.5. Autonomous weapons 148
3.3.6. Robotics and AI. 151
3.4. AI and cyber conflict 155
3.4.1. Malware, cybersecurity and AI. 157
3.4.2. AI and cyberweapons 162
3.4.3. Offensive–defensive/security configurations. 163
3.4.4. Adversarial AI and adversarial Machine Learning 171
3.4.5. AI and information warfare 173
3.4.6. Example 1: the war in Syria. 179
3.4.7. Example 2: events in Hong Kong in 2019 181
3.4.8. Example 3: malicious AI attacks. 183
3.4.9. Example 4: swarming attacks. 184
3.4.10. Example 5: crossing universes with AI and without AI. 185
